

Authors biographies

Pr. Messaoud Djeddou

Laboratory of Hydraulic Developments and Environment (LAHE), Faculty of Sciences and Technology, Mohamed Khider University, Biskra, Algeria.

He was born in Biskra, Algeria, in 1971. He received the Engineer diploma from the Hydraulic Department, Biskra University, Algeria, in 1996 and the M.S. from National High School of Water Engineering and Environment, Strasbourg, France and Ph.D. degrees from Biskra University, Algeria, in 2005 and 2014, respectively.

Currently, he is a Full Professor at the Hydraulic Department, Oum El-Bouaghi University, Algeria. His research interests include application of AI, ML, ANN's, Hybrid-modelling, and Data mining in Thermo-Hydraulics, Water engineering and Healthcare data.