

Teaching type	Credit hours(3)	Management and Conservation of Heritage Resources	course number
Blended	pre-requisite 703342		703552
The basic principles of the management and conservation process of architectural and cultural heritage in ancient cities and historical sites. Documentation of field surveys, documentary photography, classification of buildings and techniques used in conservation operations, with a study of selected examples of the process of conserving architectural heritage from Jordan, the Arab world and foreign countries. The course includes an applied field study to exam the meanings of heritage and architectural conservation.			