

Teaching type	Credit hours(4)	Architectural Design(1)	course number
face-to-face	pre-requisite 703122		703221
This course aims to present the basic principles of architectural design and the use of the methodological process in analyzing the site and similar case study. as well as studying functional and spatial relationships, presenting the design idea, dealing with the visual and sensory perception of the architectural form, and developing intuition to take a reference using direct and indirect metaphors and analogies using geometric representation or free (Metaphor). And the definition of the building as an architectural form consisting of specific and simple functions that have a relationship with each other. Designing three major projects with specific activities.			